Secretary of the Canadian Senate, who was interviewed recently at the Hotel Nassau, Long Beach, by a representative of Town Country, the opening of Parliament by H.R.H. The Duke of Connaught next October is likely to be an event of unusual brilliancy, even for Ottawa. The installation of a new Governor-general of Canada i always attended with ceremonj that is almost royal. There is the lull-dress reception in the Senate Chamber, where the court train, ilic military uniform, and all the pomp and panoply of vice-regal splendor, second only to that of the Kilglish Court, make this an exclusive and exalted event. There is the drawing-room in Government House, the State dinner the grand ball, and all the inci dental social activities that mark the opening of Parliament. But now the brother of the late King Edward is to...
