For good or evil, a slender Act of Parliament could exterminate in a generation the thoroughbred racehorse in this country. How long would it take to recreate the stock without foreign importation We do not want to depend on importation for our brains and ability, and on this ground alone I would deprecate the tendency to pass by more subtle factors of national deterioration, because they require a little more thought than more strident evils. To emphasize this point I have republished the following letters, although they are controversial in form. The origin of the letters must be sought for in a lecture before the Sanitary Inspectors Association, by Sir James Crichton-Browne. In that lecture he was reported in the Times of August 18, 1905, as saying: Professor Karl Pearson, a thoughtful and cautious anthropologist, had told us that decadence of character and of intelligent...
